An Introduction to Harwich

From the port of Harwich, visitors can explore the surrounding counties of Essex and East Anglia.

Historic Harwich is a coastal port town in the county of Essex. The old town is steeped in history, and nearby you can visit the surrounding towns and villages of Essex including the famous 'Constable Country'.

From the port, you can visit the university city of Cambridge situated on the River Cam. Visit King's College which was founded in 1441 by Henry VI (1421-71). It is one of the 31 colleges that make up the world renowned University of Cambridge.

Alternatively, why not just relax and enjoy a leisurely punt along the River Cam taking in the wonderful sights this beautiful and historic city has to offer.
